

Knights Rose Croix Put Out Lights at Altar

Darken Lodge Room in Observance of Maundy Thursday With Full Ritualistic Ceremony.

Maundy Thursday was observed by brethren of Semper Fidelis chapter, No. 1, Knights of Rose Croix, with unusual significance at the Scottish Rite cathedral. The solemn ritualistic ceremonial of extinguishing the lights and darkening the lodge was performed at 6 o'clock, under the direction of Hugh Fowler Cutler, 32d K. C. C. H., junior warden of the chapter, assisted by several of the knights. The auditorium was filled to overflowing by brethren of the degree.

Following the ceremony, dinner was served in the main refectory, after the manner prescribed for the occasion. Ralph A. Van Orsdale responded to the toast, "The President of the United States," Amadeus A. Holtman, 32d K. C. C. H., gave a toast to "The Sovereign Grand Commander and the Sovereign Grand Inspector General." Rev. Walter Aitken of Lincoln spoke eloquently on "Maundy Thursday." James H. Adams gave the formal toast, "To the memory of the brethren of the degrees, whose labors here below have ceased during the present Masonic year," and Edward M. Wellman, deputy grand master of Masons for Nebraska, responded to the toast: "To all Masons and Masonic bodies, of all rites and degrees, over the surface of the earth! Honor and laurels to the worthy; health to the sick; comfort to the needy; and succor to the oppressed everywhere."

The great dining room was filled to its capacity during the dinner and the toasts. Music was furnished by a quartet consisting of Mrs. W. Dale Clark, soprano; Mrs. Frances Porter, contralto; Hugh E. Wallace, tenor, and Charles A. Bothwell, basso. The invocation was pronounced by Rev. Arthur Atack, and the benediction by Rev. Walter Aitken.

Clarence Henry Walrath, 33d, Master of Semper Fidelis chapter, presided.

Anti-Bolshevik Chief Hissed by N. Y. Throng

"They Ought to Shoot Him Like a Mad Dog!" Shouts Man in East Side Throng—Remark Cheered.

New York, April 14.—An effort to get Gen. Semenov, Ataman of the Cossacks, out of jail today was defeated when Supreme Court Justice Delahanty denied an application of Ezra P. Prentice, his attorney, to cancel the civil warrant under which the general was arrested.

Attorneys for Gen. Semenov served notice on Justice Delahanty that they would appeal his decision to the appellate court and would continue their efforts to secure his release.

The hearing before referee in bankruptcy Olney, at which Semenov was to be questioned by the Yourovetta home and foreign trading company attorneys was adjourned indefinitely.

Hissed by Crowd. New York, April 14.—(By A. P.)—Gen. Gregorie Semenov, the man who was the terror of many Russians, was roundly hissed and jeered by great crowds who thronged the streets of the East Side last night.

He was recognized while on his way to the Ludlow street jail and ever increasing throng followed his motor car to the prison doors. "Yes, that's Semenov," declared a bearded man. "They ought to shoot him on the street like a mad dog." His remarks were cheered.

Surround Jail. As the evening wore on and the second night's celebration of Passover concluded, men and women surrounded the jail. They could not see the Cossack general, who was on an upper tier, but they continued to scream epithets at him until far into the night.

Refuse Bonds. The general surrendered shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday. He declared his occupation was "lieutenant general" and that he was 32 years old. He was assigned to Cell No. 8 on the upper tier of the jail, before his pretty young bride appeared to make arrangements for his meals being sent in to him.

Common Sense

By J. J. MUNDY. Are You a Good Sport in Disappointment?

When any sort of a disappointment comes you first blame the other fellow.

In fact, you cannot be too nasty in your pointed remarks, which you make to show you are pained, but which, in a way only make the other fellow rather glad—if the truth were known—that he did disappoint you.

In which case you are putting the claws into yourself—nobody else is hurt.

You may think you hurt the one who does not come up to your expectations.

But the minute the sharp pricks are left, you lose.

Do you know that it is possible to be so genuinely nice that others really regret having done an injustice to you?

That is half the battle toward getting things your own way.

Do not forget that when you say some spiteful little things, no matter how carefully bound up in the amenities, you have done your cause the most harm.

Some are more dense than others in recognizing the personal thrust, but even the most placid exterior may be just self-control, and the reaction against you the more deadly because it is so quiet.

Be fair and square enough to take disappointment like a good sport.

Judge and Jury Pay Visit to Masonic Hall During Suit

Federal Judge Woodrough and a jury visited the Masonic temple yesterday and spent half an hour examining certain parts of the building involved in a suit by the Bayley Manufacturing company of Milwaukee against Walter Petersen, Omaha contractor. The Bayley company alleges that $4,000 is still due from Petersen for material furnished.

Attorneys and others interested in the case were not permitted to accompany the judge and jury on the inspection of the building.

New Policy for Handling Navy Oil Announced

Reserve Fuel Supplies to Be Stored at Points Easily Accessible in Time of Need.

Washington, April 14.—A new policy in handling reserves of fuel oil for the navy, involving abandonment of attempts to keep the oil in storage under ground, was announced by the Interior department. The project was worked out in cooperation with the Navy department, the statement said, and involves the permanent storage above ground of "royalty oils" derived from naval oil reserve lands in California and Wyoming, storage to be made by operators at points on both coasts suitable for quick supply of the fleets in emergencies.

Contracts have been made and are now being made, the statement said, "which will insure the navy ample storage for all the fuel oil which it has obtained now, and which it will hereafter obtain from such reserves. This storage will be located at such points that any time of crisis or need the ships of the United States can obtain the same points at from Guantanamo, Cuba, to the extreme northeast of Maine and from California to Hawaii."

The new policy is the outgrowth of the effort to solve controversies growing out of the setting aside of certain oil lands for naval purposes for which congress paved the way with the oil land leasing act. The Interior department pointed out that under the previous practice of attempting to provide for storage any time of crisis or need the ships of the United States would be drained away by adjacent private operations and that the so-called naval reserve would be exhausted within a few years.

Under the new leasing and "royalty oils" storage plans, the department's statement said, such loss would be prevented and the navy be assured of an immediate available war reserve supply of oil fuel at all times.

with a pocket knife at the home of Mrs. Davis late yesterday afternoon by J. C. Crook, a roomer at the home of Mrs. Davis.

Police Surgeon A. J. Young was called and the injured women rushed to St. Joseph hospital, where it was found Mrs. Robertson was suffering from a deep laceration of the right breast, which may prove fatal, and Mrs. Davis with a deep cut in the left thigh.

According to a statement made by the women, they and Crook had words in the front room of the Davis rooming house and without warning Crook pulled a knife and slashed the two women. Both women sank to the floor screaming for help and Crook ran away. He was later apprehended by Captain of Police Briggs and a squad of officers at Railroad avenue and Madison street and taken to the South Side police station on a charge of cutting to wound. He is being held without bond awaiting the outcome of the women's injuries.
