THE CITY.

PERSONAL ITEMS.

John Driscoll and John Pfister took the forenoon train for Sioux Falls.

Dr Johnson went to Howard on the 1:35 train, taking his little daughter with him.

Wm Rowland departed to day for Chicago, where he will visit the world's fair for a couple of weeks.

Mrs Farley, mother of Editor Farley of the Outlook, arrived from Dubuque, Iowa, on the afternoon passenger.

Orlo B Eltes, a typo in THE DAILY LEADER for some time back, departed for Aberdeen to take a job department in the News office.

J Q Chapin and wife started to-day for Chicago, where they will remain during the summer and assist their son in entertaining world's fair visitors.

Madison attorneys made a regular be-gins to Howard today, court being in session at that place. Messrs Porter, O O Murray, Farmer, and D D Holdridge went thither on the afternoon train.

J O VanSyckel, general agent for the Emmetsburg, Iowa, marble works, was erecting tombstones in our cemetery to-day for Messrs Roberts and Stillson.

Rev C E Hager arrived from Aberdeen last evening, and will work most of the week here preparing the Chautauqua assembly program copy for the printers.

Remember the railroad meeting in the city hall this evening. Everybody turn out.

Yankton parties telegraphed today to learn the hour of the railroad meeting tomorrow. They say they will be present.

Montrose Herald, 5: Danrie Colleran, who has been at Madison and Winfred for the past six weeks, returned home Saturday.

The funeral services of the late Frank B. Whalen were held from the family residence at 10 o'clock this forenoon. The daughter arrived by last evening's freight train and the hour was changed from three this afternoon to ten this forenoon.

A farmer dropped a $10 bill on the scales in the mill to-day and was perfectly unconscious where he had lost it; but a happier man it would be hard to find than he, when Mr. Norton, at considerable trouble to himself, hunted the granger up and returned him his money. A good record for a young man.

B C Henry has had quite a numismatic display in his book stand window. He has collected old coins to the number of about 200, though at one time, he informs us, he had 1,000, the largest display of old coins on exhibition at the Centennial. They were all lost subsequently in a fire at Philadelphia.

At the meeting of Gen. Shields' post last evening it was decided to attend the St Thomas church in a body, Sunday before Memorial day, to listen to divine services. Preparations for Memorial day resulted in appointing committees on various departments of work. Committee of general arrangements, Jas Preston, D D Holdridge; music, F D Gilbert, John Gilchrist and J D Stewart; decorations, H B Schriener chairman, to choose his own assistants. Attorney General, Coe I Crawford, of Pierre, will deliver the Memorial address.

Wanbey Clipper, 4: Mr. Chas. Theiss will go to his former home in Wentworth, Lake county, Saturday to attend the golden wedding of his parents. They were married in Germany May 3rd, 1843, and immediately thereafter moved to the United States, where they have since lived and brought up a large family. If Charles is a fair sample, it speaks well for the aged couple.

Watertown dispatch, 6: Gov. Mellette C. G. Church, C. W. Staatenroth, W. B. Thomas, and John F. Brook will represent Watertown at the railroad meeting at Madison on the 10th inst., to organize a subsidiary company to construct a line from Hankinson to Yankton. Our people are very much enthused on the subject, as intelligence has come of the quiet organization of a similar company in Nebraska to take up the line in Yankton and carry it across that state.

Speaking of the new Soo railroad line, the Arlington Sun of the 6th says: Arlington being on an air line between Watertown and Madison will if this road is ever built be practically sure to get it; and a meeting was held last Wednesday evening and A. D. Maxwell was elected a delegate to attend the meeting called at Madison. While some insist that a cross road would be a damage to the town, we fail to see the force of their arguments, and believe that no efforts should be spared towards securing it if possible. This road if built on the proposed route will pass through the very best portions of Codington, Hamlin, Kingsbury and Lake counties and it must be conceded these are among the very best counties of the state. It would certainly be a paying route and we see no reason why we may not reasonably expect it to be built and in operation in the near future.

"Spring chickens" are not always tender, but Ayer's Pills enable the stomach to digest the toughest meat.

Railroad Meeting!!

All citizens and tax-payers of the city of Madison and Lake county are invited and urgently requested to attend a railroad meeting at the city hall Tuesday evening, the 9th, in the interest of securing the Hankinson, Watertown and Yankton road through this city and to select delegates to a meeting of the projectors of this road to be held in this city May 10th.

Remember the date, Tuesday, (tomorrow) evening at 8 o'clock.

"A wolf in sheep's clothing"—the substitute offered by the "cutter" as being just as good as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. If you don't want to be bitten, insist upon having Ayer's Sarsaparilla, even if it is a little dearer. Depend on it; it will be cheaper for you in the end.

EARTHQUAKE'S SHOCK.

A Vibration and Roar Which Woke up and Terrified a Great Many People—Not the Day of Judgment.

At 5:20 o'clock this morning according to THE DAILY LEADER reporter's clock, Madison experienced a violent shaking accompanied by a roar, dull yet loud as thunder and reverberating away in the distance, and the sound appeared to follow the receding vibrations of earth. We had been touched by the shock of an earthquake and many of the more timorous made an earlier and hastier toilet than usual. Light sleepers were awakened with a suddenness that bewildered them, sound sleepers failed to grasp the situation only as a dream, and only those conscious of what had really happened were those fully awake and who could discern the difference between a house shaken by electric explosion and one shaken by the deep heaving of the earth. The whole tremor did not last over fifteen to twenty seconds, though the intonations of the rumbling seemed much longer. The seismic wave was vertical in character but longitudinal in direction, passing from the southwest to the northeast, and at the center of motion was quite intense. Buildings quivered like aspen leaves, and the sensations caused those of a nervous temperament were quite harassing until their fears were allayed by a prolonged subsidence of the vibrations. A whitish misty atmosphere hung over the troubled earth for some time after the shock. Excited groups of people met on the street corners this morning and discussed the terrestrial phenomenon. It was something new in this region and people are at a loss to know how to take it.

The shock was felt at Howard, 26 miles distant, and people living in the country several miles from the city felt it as distinctly, if not even more so, than those in this place. Much interest is manifested in the event as to its extent, probable severity in some other place, and probable recurrence at this point. It is not generally known that Dakota is subject to seismic movements, but if all are as well defined as the one this morning and we have plenty of them, they will soon be diagrammed on charts.

OBITUARY.

Death of Mrs. Dora Hurlburt, of Ramona. A Useful Member of Society Gone.

DIED—Mrs. Dora Hurlburt, at Ramona, S. D., Saturday, May 4, 1893, aged 59 years. The above was born at Broadhead, Wis., where she spent her life, until her marriage in January, 1892, with Allen B. Hurlburt. Her short life has been fragrant with self sacrifices. Fitted for teaching, after one term, she cheerfully gave up her chosen occupation, on the death of a sister, to care for her aged parents. Her father died May, 1890. On her marriage, her mother lived with a son. Three weeks ago, she too, passed away, so soon to be followed by the daughter. She and husband were both baptized last fall and joined the church. Her work is done.

"One by one earth's ties are broken,
As we see our love decay,
And the hopes so fondly cherished,
Brighten but to pass away.
One by one our hopes grow brighter,
As we near the shining shore,
For we know across the river,
Wait the loved ones gone before."
Her loved pastor, Rev. G. W. Elliott, was absent in Chicago, and the funeral services were conducted by Rev. A. C. Blackman, of Madison.

Wentworth Items.

Special Correspondence of The Daily Leader.

The May party, given for the pleasure of the children, was a very enjoyable affair. Over fifty children made the Wentworth hall ring with mirth and music. The patrons furnished a supper that would suit the taste of any one. The evening will long be remembered as one of pleasure and profit.

Mrs. Elhoff and Miss Glattie made a grand success of a reception for Mr. and Mrs. Tim Mahoney last Friday evening. Every one present pronounced it a most delightful meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Mahoney will go to housekeeping in George Birrin's house.

Frank Meresman has returned from a visit at Pipestone.

A cab line has been established from Cousin's hotel, connecting with all trains going northward, southward, eastward, heavenward, etc.

Mrs. and Mr. Frank Scott and daughter, Maud, came down from Madison to attend the May party.

Misses Bertha Marx and Lizzie Jones, of Madison, attended the May party and visited friends in town Monday.

Mrs. Wm Jones and daughter, Martha, start for a visit in Montana and Oregon with a brother and sister of Mrs. Jones. Miss Carr, of Woonsocket, will join them on their pleasure trip.

The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Theiss took place at the Lutheran church the 7th inst, Rev Kuntz performing the ceremony. A large number of the friends of this worthy couple went out to their pleasant home southeast of town where a most enjoyable afternoon was spent.

Oh yes. You have only to look at him to see that he is a teacher!

Bottle Blowing by Machinery.

At the present time the eyes of the bottle making world are turned toward New Jersey. Their glance centers upon Woodbury, for in that quite village the destiny of the bottle blower may be said to be on trial. The Ashley bottle making machine has been set in operation to see if it cannot do the work of human hands and lungs and do it better and more economically. The machine was described before the British association in 1889, when it was stated that bottles had been made by the machine, quite complete, which had successfully been subjected to an internal pressure of 300 pounds to the square inch. The career of the machine in England, we believe, has been most unfortunate, but this does not at all diminish the interest which its introduction into America has excited.

The advantages to be gained by the use of such a machine are much too solid to permit small obstacles to hinder its success. The trial run at Woodbury has been fairly successful. The automatic principle has not been developed to the full extent in these machines, but it has been carried so far that one man and three boys—none of them necessarily skilled glassblowers—can operate two machines, each of which is capable of turning out two bottles a minute.—Professor C. H. Henderson in Popular Science Monthly.

Last of the Druids.

We regret to announce the death of the high priest of the sun at the ripe age of 92. To the eye of faith he was the last of the Druids. The profane knew him only as Dr. William Price of Llantrissant, in Glamorganshire, and characterized him as "a most eccentric man." It must be admitted that they were not altogether without excuse for this opinion. He attempted to imitate the pontifical raiment of his predecessors in the priesthood, wearing a whole foxskin on his head, a light green coat with trousers to match and a scarlet waistcoat.

As a reproduction of Druidic costume the profane may perhaps be again excused for thinking this a little unconvincing. Even high priests of the sun are not without human weaknesses, and Dr. Price signified this truth at the age of 81 by marrying his housekeeper, a girl of 19. One must allow that this step is a touch of prose in such a character, but he redeemed it shortly afterward by attempting to burn the body of his dead child on a funeral pyre which he erected in a neighboring field. The Druid could hardly take account of the constable.—Pall Mall Budget.

Coincidence In Death.

It is a singular fact that three noted men have died within a few weeks of each other, whose names are inseparably connected with one of the most exciting episodes in congress, when John Young Brown was censured for having given free rein to his tongue in defining what he conceived to be Butlerism. General Butler, in a characteristic speech, demanded that Brown be punished. Mr. Lamar opposed the motion in quite as vigorous a speech, and Mr. Blaine, who was then the speaker, was called upon to administer the censure, which he did in such a low tone that nobody could hear him, out of consideration for the feelings of the disgraced member.—Boston Herald.

Spontaneous Combustion In the Malls.

Spaulding & Co., the State street jewelers, received yesterday the remains of a package sent out last December. At that time it contained a solid silver filigree comb with celluloid teeth. There had been a miniature conflagration in the box, evidently caused by spontaneous combustion. The edges of the box were charred, there was some burned cotton, a piece of tarnished silver, but no comb. The only explanation offered is that the box must have been placed too near the stove.—Chicago Tribune.

A Noble Indorsement.

Governor and Mrs. McKinley set a noble example of honesty and integrity to the world. The good wife was not an indorser upon the fatal paper, but she indorses her husband's honor and manhood. Such an example in these days is worth millions in money.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Shopping is always A favorite pastime With the ladies.

And one which they especially enjoy in the spring. To enjoy it most, come and look at our exhibition of Spring Styles in dress goods and trimmings. Every year brings out new ideas, and we bring out all of the ideas that are in vogue. Everything in vogue is in our stock, which, among other things, includes the largest assortment of ladies' capes and jackets in the city, also children's cloaks. A large line of carpets—velvets, Body Brussels, Tapestry and Ingrains. It includes a great many other things which must be seen to be appreciated. Seeing is admiring in this case, and for that reason our store is daily thronged with admirers and buyers of the latest novelties. When shopping do not fail to call at D. McKINNON'S.
