CHECK OF FIRE WASTE IS URGED

GOVERNOR ISSUES PROCLAMATION
SETTING OCTOBER 9
AND 10 AS SPECIAL PREVENTION DAYS.

Pierre, Oct. 8.—Governor W. H. McMaster has issued the following and requesting observance of, fire prevention days, October 9 and 10: "The stupendous annual destruction and loss by fire throughout the various states demand that constant increasing effort be put forth toward their prevention. The wastage is a deplorable drain upon our national resources. The greatest penalty paid to this carelessness and ignorance is of course the loss of human life, approximately fifteen thousand people in the United States dying from the effects of burns, yearly. In addition, the property losses throughout the country amount to approximately more than three hundred and fifty millions of dollars per annum. Just now the fire situation in the Black Hills forests is critical and emergency measures will be necessary to forestall further real losses. "The prevention of fire waste insofar as possible is without question one of the duties of citizenship and in order to assist in the establishment of regulations for the safeguarding of life and property, I, W. H. McMaster, Governor of the State of South Dakota, under authority vested in me by law, do hereby designate October 9 and 10, 1921, as fire prevention days, and urge and trust that these days be generally observed in all public departments, by the various chambers of commerce and other organizations, and especially do I ask the assistance and cooperation of the pulpit, press and schools."

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 8.—Snow fell on the iron range early today, but was melting as it fell.

Make Plans For Educators' Meet

Huron, Oct. 8.—Plans are now rapidly going forward for the big teachers' meeting which will be held in Huron the last of next month, when between 2,500 and 3,000 teachers will be here for the annual convention of the South Dakota Educational association.

The convention division of the commercial club held a meeting at the clubrooms this week at which all the various sub-committees made reports on their activities.

The committee on meeting places has secured machinery hall at the fair grounds for the general meeting place, and is working on getting it in shape.

WILL TAKE ON MORE EMPLOYEES

SOUTH DAKOTA MANUFACTURERS' AND EMPLOYERS' ASSN.
IN ANNUAL CONVENTION.

Sioux Falls, Oct. 8.—To advertise South Dakota products to South Dakota people, a campaign will be inaugurated soon by the state Manufacturers and Employers association, which held its annual meeting in Mitchell Wednesday.

"Many of our products are sold outside of the state while 'foreign' goods are brought in here at greater expense because the people do not know the manufacturers of their own community," said C. E. LaGrave, secretary-treasurer of the organization. "The object of the propaganda will be to acquaint South Dakota with their own industries and products."

Relief of the unemployment situation was pledged by members present at the meeting. Each firm will scheme its work to hire as many men as possible, probably by cutting down the hours. Municipal, county, and state improvements will be urged wherever practical by the association. Men with families, especially, will be helped by manufacturers and employers.

The Great Lakes-St. Lawrence project was endorsed in a resolution, and the members joined with the governor in his opinion on the necessity for lower freight rates.

Carl Gunderson of Mitchell, lieutenant governor of South Dakota, was the principal speaker at the evening dinner of the convention. Common interests of the business man and the farmer were pointed out by him as a means of valuable co-operation, between the country and the city. He suggested that if a farmer put a cost system on his farm similar to that used in every up-to-date plant in the city he could profitably sell his produce.

F. J. Herriek of Mitchell succeeded O. A. Rofely of this city as president succeeds O. A. Rofely of this city as president for the coming year. Mr. Herriek was formerly vice-president of the association. His place is being taken by W. H. T. Foster of Sioux Falls. C. E. LaGrave was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The new board of directors consists of the following men: L. D. Manchester, H. A. Hurd, Eugene Saenger, O. A. Rofely, C. N. McMillan, L. F. Boyce, and C. H. Parrish of Sioux Falls; William Owsley and H. C. Behrens of Aberdeen; C. C. Warrane and A. M. Lanphere of Rapid City; C. A. Quarnberg, Belle Fourche; Elmer Sexouer, Brookings; G. D. Dokken, Canton; J. M. Morin, Huron; A. I. Olding, Redfield; C. W. Johnson, Salem; D. B. Gurney, Yankton; J. F. Runcney, Madison; T. D. Murrin, Lead; Robert Burns, Mitchell; Frank Hawley, of Watertown.

Grain Prices Hit Bottom

Sioux City, Oct. 8.—Conditions are not favorable for an increase in the price of farm products; the present low value of which must be equalized by the reduction in the cost of other commodities, was the consensus of opinion at the National Grain Dealers' association convention held in Chicago, according to Sioux City delegates, who returned this morning.

Foreign consumption of American grain and the credit situation are declared to be factors extremely adverse to any appreciable increase in the values of grains, it was said.

Many of the dealers expressed the opinion that the bottom of grain prices had been reached. It was asserted any lowering of the present schedule would check marketing of grains by the farmers, thereby reducing the supply current in the channels of consumption.

The convention went on record as opposed to the present high freight rates and demanded a reduction in carrier charges in conformity with the low values of farm products, Sioux City delegates said.

Women Study Home Making

Vermillion, Oct. 8.—There is no danger of women deserting household work or losing interest in the home—at least not yet. Many more young women at the state university are studying household economics this year. The increase is more than 20 per cent, compared with last fall. A practice house is maintained, in which all the housework is done by the students, including cooking, washing, ironing, the purchase of food and the care of the house and furniture. Just now the young women are canning and preserving. A catering class has been organized, in which instruction is given in catering for social functions of all kinds. A greatly revived interest in all forms of sewing and dressmaking is noted by the department this year.

MANY GAME FISH IN SHALLOW LAKES

EFFORT TO BE MADE TO HAVE STRANDED ONES PUT IN DEEP WATER.

Sioux Falls, Oct. 8.—It has developed during the last few days thru parties seining some of the ponds west and northwest of the city for minnows that these ponds are alive with small black bass. It also is believed that on account of the low water these lakes will freeze to the bottom and the small bass and perch, besides a few wall eyed pike will perish before spring.

Sportsmen hope to get hite conditions before the sportsmen in general and have some effort made to do something to transport these young bass, pike and perch from their present quarters and plant them in Wall lake or streams or lakes where they will be sure to live and develop so that in a few years excellent fishing will be the result.

A few years ago a similar condition existed and six or eight local sportsmen got together and seined these ponds and placed the young fish in Wall lake and other ponds, with the result that good fishing followed. At the present time there are no funds available for the purpose and it is hoped that by giving the matter publicity a plan can be devised whereby the young fish can be transplanted.

It has been suggested by some that the Sioux Falls branch of the South Dakota Game and Fish Protective association might see its way clear to take charge of the scheme for the preservation of these young game fish.

$100,000 FIRE AT CORSICA

BLAZE CAUSES BIG LOSS IN SOUTH DAKOTA TOWN.

Armour, Oct. 8.—Four store buildings and their contents at Corsica, ten miles north of here, were destroyed by fire this afternoon, with a loss estimated at $100,000.

With a strong wind blowing, it was feared for a time that the entire town was doomed and the Armour fire department and its fire fighting apparatus was summoned.

The Edward Van de Heer clothing store, the L. J. Debeer hardware store, the C. Jen Beste undertaking and furniture establishment and the F. I. Davis produce store were completely wiped out. The blaze is thought to have originated from sparks from a small bonfire of waste paper in an alley adjoining the Van de Heer store.

Fanned by a high wind, the flames spread so rapidly it was impossible to remove any of the contents of the buildings, other than a few valuable papers and four boxes of dynamite in the Debeer hardware store. The unusually heavy loss was due to the fact that much of the fall stock of goods had just been received. The loss is only partially covered by insurance. All plate loss in the fronts of the buildings across the street was broken by the intense heat of the blaze.

Think Town Is Too Small

Redfield, Oct. 8.—Dissatisfied with the census of the city taken by the regular federal census taken last spring, the commercial club appointed a committee to co-operate with the city assessor in getting an accurate count of those living within the city limits of Redfield.

They combed the city by blocks by streets and by apartments, with the result that their enumeration shows a population in Redfield of 2,991, instead of 2,775, which was the number returned by the federal agents who took the Redfield census.

EVANGELISM FOR ALL AGES

SPEAKER AT M. E. CONFERENCE SAYS NEED FOR RELIGIOUS WORK FOR CHILDREN.

Huron, Oct. 8.—Interesting talks by men prominent in church work are a prominent feature of the annual session of the Dakota conference of the Methodist Episcopal church now in session here. There is a great number of clergymen and delegates attending.

A strong plea for the education of children in the fundamentals of Christianity was made in an address tonight by Rev. M. J. Trenery of the national Sunday school board of the church.

"The Sunday school board of the church," he said, "has 27 carefully selected men from the different sections of the church, employs more than 120 men and women for full time service and expends for its work in the churches and the states more than $200,000 annually."

"Up to this hour the Methodist Episcopal church has not majored its religious education. Its hope has been mainly in adult evangelism. The Methodist church has found it difficult to be the church of the longlook. It has been rather the victim of the tyranny of immediacy. The multitude of sinful, distressed adults has held the attention of the church. The task of rescuing the perishing has been so insistent that the less spectacular opportunity of saving a whole generation before it becomes lost has had a poor chance to become the settled policy of the church. A little reflection ought to convince the most ardent advocate of the method of adult evangelism that, important as it is, it can never bring in the kingdom of God as the world order."

"The board of Sunday schools is aiming to help the church to recognize that the whole of life is the field for religious education. We have readily thought of the intellect as demanding knowledge; the will as calling for strength, and the emotions as requiring expression. We must somehow think of life as an individual unit. This unitary psychological must be taught for the name of intellect, will and emotions. Yes, more, the body, the temple and instrument of the soul must also be put to school."

"It must be made clear that we can never serve well one phase of life until we deal properly with life as a whole. This conception gives a wide range to the work of religious education; it involves the presentation of the date of religion in such a fashion as to merit a high place for its contribution to intellectual discipline. It must help the individual to a self mastery in all his experiences. It must show that emotions are dynamic and must issue in productive service. Health of body has a direct bearing upon the promotion of religion. Recreation is a normal activity which must be directed to character ends."
