Official Paper of County and City

The minority faction of the republican party put up a splendid candidate for U. S. senator in the person of Congressman Burke, author of the free homestead law. For governor, the choice fell upon H. B. Anderson, the present state auditor; and both are said to be sure winners with the people. For congressman in this district Hon. Frank McNulty carried off the honor, which gives pleasure to his friends in this part of the state. Roberts county was honored with a place on the state ticket, the railroad commissionership being given to O. S. Opheim of this city. Mr. Opheim is a clean, level-headed business man. If elected, he will make a most worthy official. The socialists and democrats also remembered the county, the former by recommending J. C. Knapp for governor and E. F. Atwood for congressman; the latter by handing out the railroad commissionership to the genial Judge Batteredton.

A little bit of a woman, weighing only 96 pounds, has just been appointed superintendent of police of the city of Gary, Indiana. She takes this position for the express purpose of suppressing vice and crime in the community. The male population of that town ought to be given a leather medal for their bravery in this matter. Later on they will doubtless tell how "Betsy and I killed the bear."

Lind the Silept One returned to Mexico last Saturday and left the newspapers still guessing as to what he and President Wilson are trying to cook up.

J. P. Croal of Sisseton, United States commissioner there, was in the city over night visiting his son, Attorney C. C. Croal, while en route to Pierre to attend the republican majority proposal committee meeting as proposalman from Roberts county.—Aberdeen Daily News.

"Republican," is he? "J. P." has evidently kept pretty mum about it, if he has experienced a change of heart for the better.

The annual meeting of the State Bar association will be held at Sioux Falls Jan. 14-15, when weighty subjects will be discussed.

What wisacre can foretell the issue upon which the republicans and democrats will scrap in the next campaign?

County Politics

Wednesday was some political day in this city, at least four sets of proposalmen being present for business. The Standard is unable, owing to a rush of other business, to handle this matter at length. There was some getting together on candidates, as the following will show:

"Pigs is Pigs."

A case was pulled off in circuit court Monday which some one dubbed "pigs is pigs" because of the fact that a few little sucking pigs occupied a prominent place on the boards. It seems that last summer Joseph Oswoskey's porkers wandered over the line to forage on Peter Wagner's crops. Mr. Wagner shut the pigs up and notified the owner that he wanted damages. The owner consulted Attorney Jorgenson who advised getting them back by replevin. Costs by sheriff $15.00. The case was then dignified to the size of a case in circuit court, instead of paying a few dollars damage or letting a justice of the peace settle the little difference between the neighbors. After occupying nearly a day's time of the court, which is run at a big expense to the county, the jury returned a verdict of $1.00 for Wagner, and costs amounting to about $50.00 were thrown upon Oswoskey which, with previous costs and attorney's fees, must have brought the total close up to $100. Thus another foolish case was disposed of. J. J. Batteredton was attorney for Wagner.

Grain Growers Meet

The annual meeting of the South Dakota Corn and Grain Growers Association and the Annual Corn and Grain Show and School conducted therewith, will be held in Mitchell, South Dakota, January 27-31, 1914. The meeting this year will be especially attractive because it is arranged to hold a union meeting of the several genuine farmers' organizations of the state at this time and place. The South Dakota Corn and Grain Growers, Live Stock Breeders, Poultrymen and Horticulturalists, have all arranged to meet in Mitchell. The sessions of each organization will be, to some extent, independent of each other, but the evening meetings, which are somewhat more general in character, are arranged as union meetings.

On Wednesday and Thursday afternoons the corn growers will suspend their program entirely so that everyone can attend the live stock sale at the Pavilion.

This is to be a big meeting, and a most fortunate chance for every real farmer in South Dakota to see every other real farmer and to see and hear the big people in Agriculture. You have heard Hopkins and Sam Jordan. Barring sickness or accident, they will absolutely be on the platform according to the program.

There is not space in this short notice to publish the program. Send for a copy of the Corn and Grain Growers program and premium list. Get in line early by sending your membership fee of one dollar for the Corn and Grain Growers Association. The membership fee covers all corn and grain entries for premiums under the rules.

Twelve months study in the closing part of the life of Christ, ought to be attraction enough to lead every lover of that life to be present at every session of the Sunday School possible. Be sure to come next Sunday.

The growing interest in the Sunday evening services at the New Grand, is certainly encouraging to all interested in a better Sisseton. The fact that Dr. Nash, the president of the Aberdeen Normal is the speaker next Sunday evening, ought to insure a full house.

Remember that Rev. C. E. Kearns of Watertown will be here next Monday to begin a series of addresses on Christian life and work. Plan to come every Sunday evening so as not to miss any of these addresses. The song service will begin promptly at 7:30 p. m.

torrent of water so that the coach can not run for five months of the year. We did not eat dinner at the place where they stopped for it, as we had lunch with us. While the rest were eating we took a picture of the coach. A few miles out of Vinto, where the coach line stops and we change to a trolley, we were met by a group of boy scouts from the school at Cochabamba on horse back. They escorted us all the way to the school. At Vinto, where we took the trolley, we were met by Mr. and Mrs. Washburn and daughter. It was a feast day and the cars were crowded, but we reached Cochabamba, a distance of 15 miles, by four o'clock. We took a cab from the trolley station to the school and when we reached there were greeted by all the teachers and students. They gave us the Institute yell and nine raps so that it seemed like we had indeed reached home.

We were shown to our rooms to rest until evening. We have two beautiful rooms at the front of the building that were prepared for us with much care. We might say that we found much rice in everything and also that we were greeted at the rate with rice and old shoes.
