Pick Out The Right Store and Stick To It Select a Store You Can Trust, and trade there Regularly

We are proud that we have so many steady customers and if you come here we will exert every effort to be worthy of your confidence season after season.

Clothes of style, of medium price, backed by an unequaled guarantee have won for us the regular patronage of men who did not buy steady at any one store.

The Boy's Norfolk models are spring creations that will appeal favorably to those who want the newest in sensible style. The model shown here is but one of the many "nifty" designs shown by us. The quality is higher than the price conditions in the clothing market warrant; the patterns, weaves and textures are "right up to the scratch" selected high grade materials assure you of proper body and lasting durability.

Our hundreds of satisfied customers is good evidence of our correct policy.

Bossko Township News

Mrs. T. B. Nelson carried on services at the Otto school house. Every one seemed to be pleased with her work.

Emil Markeseth made a flying trip out in Edward Vassen's pasture but he came back as fast as he could in order to get a new start and also a new gun—but he had to take the same one. One what?

Miss Laura Otto is taking a little vacation this week but will take up her work again the latter part of the week. She is welcomed back to the country by all her friends.

There will be a meeting in the Otto school house next Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

John and Eva Schaker were up to Sunday School last Sunday.

Alfred Otto made a call on the Ready boys last Sunday evening. Strange Alfred went to visit boys when girls are so plentiful as they are in this neck of the woods.

Hazel Otto is out home this week. She is taking a vacation from school but will return next week.

There will be a ladies aid at the Peterson church next Wednesday. Every one invited to come.

August Steppa is certainly a lot of trouble to Emil Markeseth lately. He ought to catch on pretty soon what Emil's business is.

Wm. Monson was up to Elmer Eddy's last Sunday night. They enjoyed a nice long talk and about 11 o'clock Bill said, "I guess I will have to go home as it is getting near my bed time as she told me never to stay out later than 10 o'clock at the latest so good night."

Richard Wooley was around Sunday trying to get a shot at some of the girls with his kodak. He was successful too.

Eva, John and Laura Schaker were visitors at the Jones home on Sunday.

There was a collection of ten dollars taken in at the Otto school house last Sunday for Rev. Shearer.

Talking machine music seems to be the style on line 13. It is very annoying to people wishing to talk of past, present and future times.

Harry Otto is out from Sisseton helping John Ready clean seed grain.

Mrs. Smith returned home from Veblen where she has been employed as cook in the west side restaurant.

Mrs. Emma Ott is visiting friends in the country this week but she will return to Sisseton in the near future where she will be employed at the Radisson restaurant.

Some of the young people are so angry about the telephone company raising the price that they are staying up all night in order to get their $15 worth of good out of the phone.

A party of young folks gathered at the home of Mrs. Frank Otto Monday night. The evening was spent in games after which a fine supper was served. The young folks think Mrs. Otto an ideal entertainer.

While Elmer Eddy was in town Tuesday he came home without his jug. He left it behind Stavig's store—and Mrs. Eddy needed the vinegar.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Wooley were visitors at the Nelson home Sunday.

Andrew Markeseth has gone back to Montana to hold down his claim. Andrew will be missed as he is well liked among the boys as well as the girls.

Carrie Vassen left Tuesday for her claim in Montana where she will attend to putting in the crop.

Emil Markeseth was in Veblen Saturday on a good time occasion, it being Market day there.

Mr. Ready is reported to be in better condition since he went to the hospital and had an operation on his nose.

I wish people would leave Richard Wooley's uncle alone when he wants to talk over the phone at night because he is a good fellow and more than that you might be in the same fix some day.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. John Avelsgaard died at Milan Thursday morning, where Mrs. Avelsgaard has been since the child's birth. John left for Milan Thursday.

The sorrowing parents have the sympathy of the community.... Mrs. Kuehl and little daughter returned last week from the Swedish hospital at Minneapolis, where the little girl underwent an operation. Mrs. C. Solan who accompanied them, took treatment for her eyes while in the city.... Mrs. Shortfoot, who was born near Wilmot and has lived in the hills west of Veblen all her life and is now some over 80 years old, took her first ride on a train last week.

The trip to Aberdeen was very much enjoyed by the aged lady, and she is still telling of her thrilling ride on the F. & V. cannon ball.... Last Tuesday the original Railroad Committee met here to make their final report and settlement. Messrs. Hostbjoer, Akerson and Hokenson of Rosholt; Olson, Dahl and Thompson of New Effington, and Fenney of Claire City, and Auditor Bitney of Fairmount were here. Veblen committeemen were: Dan Hill, Aaron Anderson, H. J. Hanson and Geo. Anderson.... Miss Elsie Robertson and Mr. Wayne Steele, were united in marriage, Wednesday, March 18th, at
