United Press Service

CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—Colonel Roosevelt and 300 New York and New England states progressives arrived here at 1:30 this afternoon for the conference of members of the progressive party, which will be held here tomorrow.

Prior to the arrival of Colonel Roosevelt, Chairman Perkins endeavored to call a meeting of the progressive executive committee, but was not able to get a quorum. The meeting was postponed.

"The conference will be informal," declared Senator Dixon. "I do not expect that Colonel Roosevelt will deliver a set speech."

The Illinois progressives held a conference this afternoon.

MAN INJURES HIS FOREFINGER

SHOOTING AT A TARGET WITH A .38-CALIBRE RIFLE, ACCIDENTALLY SHOTS HIMSELF THIS MORNING

Fred Robertson, employed by Burrell Short on his ranch near Merrill, accidentally shot himself with a .38-calibre rifle while shooting at a target this morning. The bullet passed through the end of the forefinger of the left hand, carrying away about half of the bone of the first phalanx and a portion of the nail. Dr. Parker is attending Mr. Robertson, and he believes he will be able to save the finger if no violent bacteria has infected the wound.

DESERTED WIVES SEEK SEPARATION

TWO ACTIONS ARE FILED IN THE CIRCUIT COURT — AVE KILBORN SAYS HUSBAND QUIT AFTER YEAR OF MARRIED LIFE

Two suits for divorce have just been filed in the circuit court. In both cases, the complainants are the wives, and they both charge their spouses with deserting them.

Avis Kilborn seeks a decree divorcing her from Harry Kilborne, whom she married at Portland in October, 1910. She alleges that Kilborn abandoned her a year later, and has since refused to provide for her.

Sarah W. Currin is the plaintiff in the other action, seeking separation from Robert H. Currin and the custody of their child, Hugh, aged 4 years. They were married in this city in 1906, according to the complaint. Keesee & Grossbeck are Mrs. Currin's attorneys.

AN INQUIRY WILL BE HELD

which will be laid against the Indians in the event of their capture.

Weeks was taken to the hospital Friday morning suffering from acute pneumonia. He was found in a lodging house on Main street in a serious condition, and Dr. Chilton was summoned. The physician ordered him removed to the hospital at once.

The young Indian was bruised about the body, had a black eye, and the skin was torn from his neck in such a manner as to indicate that a rope had been the medium.

It was not until this morning, after the death of the Indian, that the matter was reported to the coroner and prosecuting attorney. At once an investigation was started.

Weeks was here as a witness before the grand jury. He had secured liquor, according to information that has been secured by the authorities, and Wednesday night was very drunk. He had engaged in a fight with some other Indians in a barn north of Main street.

An Indian, whose identity has not been ascertained, hurried to the sheriff's office and told of the trouble. The red stated that Weeks had threatened his companions, and that they had overpowered him and tied him to a post.

The Indian was advised to notify the city police. The Indian followed their advice and approached Chief of Police Smith and Officer Hall.

"Bad injun up at stable," said the red. "Look. He pull me 'round."

The Indian displayed his coat, the buttons of which had been pulled off. The chief and the patrolman at once proceeded to the barn. They aroused the proprietor and made a thorough search, guided by a lantern, but were unable to find any trace of the "bad" Indian.

The next day, shortly before noon, Weeks appeared at the lodging house. His hands were tied in front of him with a scarf, and he was in a serious condition. He was given a room and later, on Friday morning, a physician was called.

Dr. Chilton stated this afternoon that in addition to the wounds on Weeks' neck, there was a bruise on his chest, which might have induced pneumonia, from which death directly resulted.

John Weeks was a son of Joe Weeks. His uncle, Prim Weeks, is now in the state penitentiary, serving a life sentence for the murder of Lily Harding, a Modoc Indian.

BOFIA, Dec. 9.—Riots are feared on account of the policy of the government in suppressing the list of the war victims. Relatives of members of the First and Thirty-seventh infantries are threatening to publish the lists on their own account if the government does not act.

Mass meetings are planned to demand that adequate war news be given out. The churches have been crowded throughout the day. The feeling is intense.

If it's worth having, it's worth securing. See Chilcote at 628 Main street, or phone 491.
