MORE BONDS WANTED

The Bond Resolution Causing a Big Fight.

CLEVELAND'S VETO SURE

To Kill the River and Harbor Appropriation Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—Mr. Hill put in another day (the fifth) in opposition to the bond resolution in the senate today. Early in the day Peffer, author of the resolution, announced he would seek to force a vote by holding the senate in session until the resolution was disposed of. It was evident, however, that the senators were not disposed to submit to the hardships of a protracted and possibly all night session, and Peffer did not carry out his announcement. He stated, however, that the resolution would certainly pass by today which however, is doubtful, in view of Hill's apparent ability to speak indefinitely. Pettigrew supported the bond resolution, and severely criticised the administration of the treasury. The senator also criticised Sherman for his recent approval of the treasury administration.

Some progress was made on the river and harbor bill by taking it up in the morning hour. The only changes made today were those restoring the authorization of contracts of $1,003,000 for Sabine Pass, Texas, and $987,000 for Savannah, Ga., harbor.

There is not the least doubt now that Cleveland will veto the river and harbor appropriation bill. The main reason for such action is that it contains so many continuing contracts, and provides for a large expenditure in the future. Cleveland has always been opposed to river and harbor appropriations. He thinks it is an unnecessary expenditure. He thinks results could be obtained by a much less expenditure. Cleveland is particularly against the proposed harbor at Santa Monica. It was during a discussion of the river and harbor bill with several senators that the president gave expression to his opinion of the present congress. He said that this was the worst congress he had ever known, either during his or any other administration.

MR. LAWLER'S RETURN.

Oregon Mining Properties Successfully Sold in England.

Mr. William B. Lawler, the well-known mining operator, who has met with success in the development of mining properties in the Quartzville district in Linn county, returned yesterday from London and Paris, accompanied by his wife, after an absence of two months.

Nearly two years ago Mr. Lawler came to Oregon for the purpose of examining mining properties in the Santiam country, and so favorable were his impressions as to the mineral wealth of that district that he bonded several properties. During all of last year development work was prosecuted under his personal direction, and the result attained proved so favorable that the English associates of Mr. Lawler furnished him with all possible means to continue the work. A 20-stamp mill was erected, and early during the present year it was in complete running order. From the time the stamp dropped until the present the mill has not only paid all the expenses of dead work and the running of the mine and mill, but a comfortable surplus has been laid aside, the nucleus of a dividend soon to be declared. So great has been the success of operations at Quartzville that arrangements are now being made to add 20 stamps to the mill, and also to put in a full line of vanners necessary for the concentration of some portions of the ores.

During his visit in London Mr. Lawler also placed 26 mines in the Quartzville district with the London Bankers' Development Company, and preliminary work will commence about June 1. Mr. Lawler also placed the Blue river properties he has under bond with the Hamilton Smith syndicate, subject to its examination. He furnishes the money for expert examination. In an addition, he also secured from another syndicate 5,000 guineas for the purpose of investigating other Oregon mining properties, with a view of purchase and permanent operations.

Mr. Lawler returns to take full charge of the properties of the Lawler gold mines syndicate, the property he has managed during the past year, and his success in that direction has met with such approval that the London board tendered him a vote of confidence at the meeting of the directors, held while he was in that city. The operations have proved entirely successful, and Quartzville district promises to take a distinctive place this year in the history of mining in Oregon. Mr. Lawler leaves this morning for Albany, and from there he will proceed to the mines at Quartzville.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE

Is Well Received and Is An Able Debater.

Thomas H. Tongue, Republican candidate for congress, opened his canvass in Marion county at Woodburn, Tuesday, at 2 o'clock, with an able talk on the tariff and money question. Quite a number of farmers came in to hear him.

A member of the McKinley club started to go up on the platform and introduce Mr. Tongue, when he was called back by Captain Miller, of the Independent, who had been delegated by L. G. Barron, precinct committeeman, to act in his place. Captain Miller then put the question as to who should be chairman. A few Dolphites voted "no," but Barkley was elected chairman.

Mr. Tongue talked two hours, and held steadfast attention of the audience. He makes the main argument on the tariff, devoting a half hour to analysis of the silver question. He makes a conservative argument for "sound money," that is acceptable to most Republicans. Mr. Tongue's speech is well worth listening to, and he has no superior in his line of argument in Oregon.

AT SALEM.

The crowd which packed the opera house to hear Mr. Tongue last evening was undoubtedly the finest audience as ever assembled to hear a political address in Salem. It was certainly a high compliment to the eminent speaker and to the Republican cause. The speaker was introduced shortly after 8 o'clock by Chairman Hendricks and for over two hours entertained the grand audience in a masterly manner. The chief trend of the speaker's arguments, which were always clear and concise, was in favor of placing the Republicans in power, when by protection they would restore the country to prosperity. Then the grand party of the people would settle the money question rightly and as it should be.

At the close of Mr. Tongue's talk loud calls went up for Hon. H. L. Barkley, who was on the stage. That gentleman did not wish to come forward owing to the lateness of the hour, but when the call was vociferously repeated, he stepped to the front and thanked his friends, saying that he would speak later in Salem on the regular canvass.

Among those on the stage were ex-Gov. Moody, Gen. W. H. Odell, Dr. J. N. Smith, S. C. Adams, J. J. Murphy, J. Q. Wilson, J. M. Keene, Senator A. J. Johnson, of Linn county, H. L. Barkley, C. B. Moores, Mayor Gatch, Geo. W. Davis, Frank Davey, and Robt. J. Hendricks.
